As for Forsyth's exhibit, under the

A Complete Circle.

The circle of Republican control and corruption is complete. The protected monopolists supply the Republican campaign funds, and in return are permitted to fix the duties that will give them control of the market. Read the confession of the Philadelphia Telegraph.

Professional corrupters of the suffrage like Quay and Dudley use the money thus contributed to buy the election in close States, and are rewarded with the patronage and protection of the Administration. Professional spoils-dispensers are given the privilege of putting their henchmen and favorites in office, and in return exact a percentage of the salaries to continue the work of debauching elections. Witness the Stand-and-Deliver circulars of the Republican committees in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Thus the p-ople are taxed to pay bounties and percentages of salaries for the control of their own elections and their own Government. The cir-
